February 2008

Stall Times

Follow this and additional works at: http://scholarworks.gsu.edu/univ_lib_stalltimes

Part of the Library and Information Science Commons

Recommended Citation
http://scholarworks.gsu.edu/univ_lib_stalltimes/13

This Newsletter is brought to you for free and open access by the University Library Publications at ScholarWorks @ Georgia State University. It has been accepted for inclusion in University Library Stall Times by an authorized administrator of ScholarWorks @ Georgia State University. For more information, please contact scholarworks@gsu.edu.
University Library Recognizes Black History Month

Georgia State University Library is pleased to participate in recognizing the contributions of African-Americans to the world and in our local communities. During the month of February, the University Library will showcase a display on the first floor of Library North in the middle display case.

This year’s theme, “Carter G. Woodson and the Origins of Multiculturalism,” has a unique significance that is relevant to people of all backgrounds. According to the Association for the Study of African American History, “the main effort of this year’s theme is to show that the multiculturalism of today had its origins in the struggles of African Americans to have their cultural contributions recognized by American society”.

For more information about African American History, or this year’s theme, visit www.asalh.org/2008NationalBlackHistoryTheme.html

Where Are The Books?

Books in the Library’s General Collection are now in order and in their permanent locations beginning with A call numbers on Library North 5 and ending with Z call numbers on Library North 3. Books that were previously in storage are on the shelves again and pre-1975 journal volumes will be available again in mid-March.

Saxbys Coffee Shop

Open During All Library Hours

7:30am–midnight  Monday–Thursday
7:30am–6pm  Fridays
9am–6pm  Saturdays
10am–10pm  Sundays

Want to chill with a good book? The Library has a browsing collection of current popular fiction and non-fiction titles (including some Spanish language titles and some graphic novels) on Library North 1 just inside the entrance. Recent new titles include: Plum Lucky by Janet Evanovich, The How of Happiness: A Scientific Approach to Getting the Life You Want by Sonja Lyubomirsky, and J. Edgar Hoover: A Graphic Biography by Rick Geary. So grab a cup of joe, find a comfy rocker by the window and read!

Comments? Questions? Email us at stalltimes@gsu.edu.