ENDNOTE & ZOTERO MAKE BIBLIOGRAPHIES EASIER

“On the house” and “less work” are usually phrases that most college students like to hear. Both apply to EndNote and Zotero, two computer programs that Georgia State students can download from the library to help create bibliographies for papers. Both save hours of work with organizing and formatting citations in Microsoft Word.

EndNote

An EndNote workshop will be available January 20 at 12:30. E-mail jpuckett@gsu.edu to sign up.

Over 3 million people come through the Georgia State University Library's doors each year. It provides the university community with access to extensive information resources; assistance with research; state-of-the-art computer stations; and a comfortable space to meet, learn and relax in.

The Library is truly universal on campus; it is the center that unites the entire university.

RESERVE A GROUP STUDY ROOM

With so many commuting students at Georgia State, sometimes finding a place to study together or work on group projects is difficult. Try meeting at the library! We have 52 group study rooms that can be quickly reserved from our website.

1. Go to www.library.gsu.edu
2. Click STUDY ROOMS (under the Library Services column)
3. Click RESERVE A ROOM
4. Login with your CampusID and your password
5. Click MAKE A RESERVATION NOW

Rooms are available for 3 hours/day per CampusID. Remember, your study group must consist of 2 or more people.

BROWSING COLLECTION

These are just a few examples of books available in our current browsing collection. Check the shelves just to the left of the Library North entrance for more fun reading!

GET REWARDED FOR YOUR GOOD WORK!
