Terms in italics are defined in this glossary

Access – The timely use, capacity, and availability of health services to achieve the best health outcomes.

Acute Care Facility – A facility that generally provides care for a short period of time to treat a certain illness or condition. Care can include short-term hospital stays or doctor's office visits.

Anxiety Disorder – Excessive fear, nervousness, or anxiousness that hinders the ability to function normally and can cause individuals to try to avoid situations that trigger or worsen their symptoms of anxiety.

Assertive Community Treatment (ACT) Services – Intense, community-based services that use a multidisciplinary team approach to provide comprehensive treatment and support to individuals with severe and persistent mental illness.

Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) – A common mental disorder characterized by inattention, hyperactivity, and impulsivity that causes distress and/or other problems at home, at school, or in social settings.

Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) – A complex developmental disorder that varies in presentation. ASD ranges in severity and combinations of signs, symptoms, and characteristics but may include communications issues, difficulty interacting socially, and repetitive body movements and/or behaviors.

Babies Can't Wait – An early intervention system that provides a coordinated, comprehensive, and integrated system of services for infants and toddlers with special needs, ages 0–3 years, and their families through early identification and screening.

Behavioral Health – A state of mental and emotional being and/or choices and actions that affect wellness. Behavioral health challenges include substance abuse or misuse, alcohol and drug addiction, serious psychological distress, suicidal ideation, and mental disorders.

Behavioral Health Coordinating Council (BHCC) – A group of state agency commissioners, legislators, consumers, consumer family members, and state ombudsman in the System of Care that identifies overlapping services, as well as funding and policy issues in the behavioral health system.

Bipolar Disorder – A disorder that alters a person's mood, energy, and overall capability to function. Consists of mood episodes that are either manic, hypomanic, or depressive.

Blending – The process of combining funds from different sources (e.g., Medicaid and block grant monies) into a single pool to fund a program. Unlike braiding, the original source of funds is no longer identifiable.

Braiding – The process of combining funds from different sources to support a common program or service. Unlike blending, funds can still be tracked and accounted for separately.

Bright from the Start: Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning (DECAL) – State agency responsible for meeting the child care and early education needs of Georgia’s children and their families. The agency administers Georgia’s Pre-K Program, licenses child care centers and home-based child care, administers Georgia’s Childcare and Parent Services program, oversees federal nutrition programs, and manages Quality Rated, Georgia’s community-powered child care rating system.

Website: decalfga.gov

Care Coordination – A voluntary service provided to care management or administrative service organization members with complex behavioral health service needs. Services include assessment, advocacy, referral, linkage, and coordination of wraparound services according to an individualized recovery plan incorporating the input of individuals and their families or other natural supports. Care coordination is distinct from intensive customized care coordination (IC3), care management, and case management.

Care Management Entity (CME) – A partnership that uses the High-Fidelity Wraparound model to serve youth throughout Georgia with significant behavioral health needs who are at risk of out-of-home placements. The CME is a partnership with the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities' Community-Based Alternatives for Youth program and provides intensive customized care coordination and System of Care coordination.

Care Manager – An agent of a managed care plan that provides a link between health providers and payers by coordinating client services.

Case Management – Coordination of care and services in the community for individuals living with mental illness. Assistance is provided for obtaining housing and linking the person to rehabilitation services and income programs such as Supplemental Support Income and Social Security Disability Insurance.

Center of Excellence for Children's Behavioral Health (COE) – An organization housed within Georgia State University's Georgia Health Policy Center. The center was created in partnership with the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities to provide fidelity monitoring, program evaluation, policy and financing analysis, workforce development and training, and technical assistance for quality improvement within the System of Care framework for the child and adolescent behavioral health system in Georgia.

Website: ghpc.gsu.edu/coe/

Certified Peer Specialist (CPS) Services – A program responsible for the implementation of peer-support services, which are Medicaid reimbursable. The CPS program provides System of Care-informed and recovery-oriented peer certification, continuing education training, and workforce development for parents and youth with lived experience.

Children 1st – A population-based system in Georgia designed to serve as an entry point into all public health–related services for children 0–5 years old. Children 1st facilitates early identification of at-risk children and links them with early interventions and services, as well as other community-based resources.

Children in Need of Service (CHINS) – Minors who have committed status offenses and are in need of guidance, counseling, structure, supervision, treatment, or rehabilitation. CHINS offenses may include habitual truancy, running away, possessing alcohol or being found in a bar, violating curfew hours, or being found ungovernable by parents and putting themselves in danger.

Children’s Health Insurance Program (CHIP) – A program that provides federal matching funds for states to spend on health coverage for uninsured children. Georgia’s CHIP program is PeachCare for Kids®.

Chronic Condition – A condition or disease with persistent, long-lasting impact or effects of three months or more.

Clinical Psychologists – Professionals who provide continuing and comprehensive mental and behavioral health care for individuals and families; consultation to agencies and communities; training, education, and supervision to behavioral health providers; and research-based practice.

Community-Based Services – Health and social services provided to an individual or family in their place of residence for the purpose of promoting, maintaining, or restoring health or minimizing the effects of illness and disability.

Community-Based Alternatives for Youth (CBAY) – A program of the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities and the Georgia Department of Community Health for youth ages 5–21 to prevent the need for care in a psychiatric residential treatment facility.

Community Service Boards (CSBs) – Georgia’s public safety-net providers of mental health, substance use disorder, and intellectual and developmental disability treatment and services. CSBs are quasi-governmental agencies with oversight from the Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities.

Conduct Disorder – A more severe form of oppositional defiant disorder that consists of ongoing behavior that breaks rules in which the individual acts aggressively, engages in violent behaviors, violates rules, lies, steals, or destroys property.

Continuity of Care – The entire spectrum of specialized health, rehabilitative, and residential services available to individuals who are frail or chronically ill. Clinical services provided during a single inpatient hospitalization or for multiple conditions over a lifetime. Also referred to as continuum of care.

Co-Occurring Disorders – A situation that occurs when individuals have both a substance use disorder and a mental health disorder. Also referred to as dual disorders.

Core Provider – A provider that offers a set of essential benefit package services as defined by the Affordable Care Act. Examples of services include psychiatric treatment; nursing treatment; individual, family, and group counseling; case management, and behavioral health assessments.

Counselors – Professionals who help clients identify goals and potential solutions to problems causing emotional turmoil. They seek to improve communication and coping skills, strengthen self-esteem, and promote behavior change and optimal mental health.

Crisis services – A continuum of services to stabilize and improve psychological symptoms of distress and to engage individuals in an appropriate treatment service to address the problem that led to the crisis. Also referred to as crisis care or crisis continuum.

Crisis Stabilization Unit (CSU) – Small residential facilities of fewer than 16 beds for people in a mental health crisis whose needs cannot be met safely in psychiatric residential treatment facility settings. CSUs may be designed to admit on a voluntary or involuntary basis when the person needs a safe, secure environment that offers psychiatric stabilization and withdrawal management services in a setting that is less restrictive than a hospital.

Culturally and Linguistically Competent – When individuals and systems have the ability to respond respectfully and effectively to people of all cultures, classes, races, ethnic backgrounds, sexual orientations, and faiths or religions in a manner that recognizes, affirms, and values the worth and protects the dignity of individuals, families, tribes, and communities.

Data-Driven – Using data and evidence to guide decisions.

Depressive Disorder – A common and serious, yet treatable, condition that affects the way an individual thinks, feels, acts, and handles daily activities. It is characterized as having a low mood.

Developmental Disability – A condition that begins during the critical milestones of a child's life and impairs physical, language, behavior, or learning areas.

Developmentally Appropriate Practice (DAP) – An approach to teaching grounded in the research of how young children develop and learn and designed to promote young children's optimal learning and development.

Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders (DSM) – A handbook used by mental health and health care professionals as a reference guide to the diagnosis of mental disorders.

Disruptive Mood Dysregulation Disorder (DMDD) – A condition that includes extreme irritability, anger, and outbursts that can result in severe impairment.

Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT)

– A program required in every state and designed to improve the health of low-income children under age 21 years receiving Medicaid by financing appropriate and necessary pediatric services.

Eating Disorder – A condition in which an individual is fixated on eating behaviors — especially food consumption and body weight — and the thoughts and emotions associated with them.

Emerging Adult Support Services (EASS) – A program that includes several initiatives focused on improving the lives of individuals ages 16–26 years, including supported employment and first-episode psychosis early treatment programming.

Evidence-Based Practice – The use of current best evidence in making decisions about the care of individuals. This approach must balance the best evidence with the desires of the individual and the clinical expertise of health care providers.

Family-Driven Approach – Principle by which families have the primary role in decisions regarding their children. Also applies to the policies and procedures governing the well-being of all children in a community, state, tribe, territory, and nation.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) – A federal law that prohibits the inappropriate disclosure of personally identifiable information taken from education records.

Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC) – A community-based organization that provides comprehensive primary care and preventive care, including health, oral, and mental health/substance abuse services, to persons of all ages, regardless of their ability to pay or health insurance status. Thus, they are a critical component of the health care safety net.

Georgia Crisis and Access Line (GCAL) – A toll-free number, 1-800-715-4225, that is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, from anywhere in Georgia. Callers are connected to a trained professional who links them to the most appropriate services for a behavioral health crisis, a crisis related to an intellectual or developmental disability, or a substance use crisis, as close to their location as possible.

Georgia Department of Administrative Services (DOAS) – The state agency that provides business solutions to Georgia's state and local government entities. DOAS' product and service offerings encompass a broad spectrum that includes purchasing (procurement), risk management, enterprise human resources, fleet support services, and surplus property transactions. Website: doas.ga.gov/

Georgia Department of Behavioral Health and Developmental Disabilities (DBHDD) – The state agency that provides treatment and support services to people with mental health challenges and substance use disorders, and assists individuals who live with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Its Office of Children, Young Adults, and Families offers children, young adults, and their families a range of treatment and support services to address emotional and behavioral challenges.

NOTES

The Georgia Health Policy Center, established in 1995, provides evidence-based research, program development, and policy guidance at local, state, and national levels to improve health status at the community level.

Located within Georgia State University's Andrew Young School of Policy Studies, the center distills qualitative and quantitative research findings to connect decision-makers with the evidence-based research and guidance needed to make informed decisions about health policy and programming.

Today, the center is at work nationwide focusing on some of the most complex policy issues facing health care today, including behavioral health, child health and well-being, community health systems development, health and health care financing, health in all policies, health system transformation, long-term services and supports, population health, and rural health.
